

Dear MapInfo Professional® User:

As a valued MapInfo customer, we would like to offer you the opportunity to trial one of our newest products, MapInfo® Discovery™ for free! Using the power of MapInfo Discovery, viewing and publishing maps has never been easier!

MapInfo Discovery helps the map creator in your organization create a neatly organized catalog of their maps and related information. Setting up and maintaining the catalog is as easy as maintaining files on a Microsoft® Windows® PC. For each map in the catalog, they provide a title, description and category for their map. MapInfo Discovery automatically creates a thumbnail image that makes it easy to browse and search the catalog.

The next time someone sends you a map, you will not have the cumbersome task of downloading and installing viewing software. The map creator sends you the URL to browse the catalog in your web browser and you simply click on the map you wish to view. If they make a revision to that map, instead of sending you another copy, the changes are automatically posted. You won't need to fuss with large files and maintain multiple copies of these maps. Everything is neatly cataloged and easy to access. Plus, the map creator can post supporting documents along with the maps that describe the whole picture.

Now you can have the opportunity to try out MapInfo Discovery for free! If you would like to receive your free trial version of MapInfo Discovery, simply contact TerraNova today and a 60-day trial CD will be sent to you. We thank you for your interest and believe you will find that MapInfo Discovery is the perfect tool for organizing and distributing maps within your organization.
